Beguiling the Penumbra

Parade at noon

Beguiling the Penumbra

Gameskeeper never minced his before

Coyote took the word angel. The riddle remains whether the two were different aspects of the same entity

Or two individuals who shared the same shadow.

It all began when

Rhino first decided to bodaciously flaunt his wings in public.

The rain fell on Waterloo
And there was flying everywhere.
Bird walked in
Bestowing feathers on everyone
The air was electric;
No one wanted to be left out.

Still, in the penumbra

Poets were wrapped in their dreams;
Dreamers were tangled in their poetry.
Garments of intuition roamed freely,
Notes dancing in the aisles.

Tumbling freely,

The two were swirling in a cloud:
Leaders, takers, rocket ship makers.
Tricksters chasing ringleaders;
Monkeys hopping trains;
The spiral of black and white began to shimmer.

Eddies of light crept in.

In a wonder the eclipse ended.
Buckets of light spilled forth.
